THE EVENING OF LIFE

BY MRS. JULIA C. ALDRICH.

Life's sunset clouds have golden edges—
Its stream a calm and peaceful flow—
Its cares no longer call to labor—
This is Life's bright after-glow.
By faith we see the near-by dawning
That reveals the spirit clime;
Thro' gates ajar, seems Heaven's gleaming
Lights this holy evening time.

But some who loved and labored with us
Are recalled now with a sigh—
Aye, they have passed beyond Life's evening,
Gone to their reward on high.
But holy love and trusted friendship
Leave unfading memories, sweet;
Of in the glow of recollection
We that chosen circle meet.

We see beyond the mortal vision—
Far beyond death's parting gloom—
Our dear ones give us joyous welcome,
Lead thro' fields of fragrant bloom—
By streams of bright and sparkling waters,
Landscapes, all supremely grand
With glories never here conceived of
Brightening all that Spirit land.

They tell us of their glad vocations
That in earth life were begun—
Of joy they find there in pursuing
Till achievement grand is won—
That each, well earned, attainment opens
Into higher realms of bliss—
That souls find there that Life Eternal
Had its seed time all in this.

Some souls, in life, have special mission
Such are Wisdom's needed hands;
Tho' oft it drives thro' cruel trial
Yet they follow its demands;
What was first deemed cruel hindrance
Brought the birth of Spirit might—
It stirred the soul to grasp and conquer—
Blessing proved, instead of blight.

In Spirit-life research is reaching
For the long sought unattained
Thus are broader fields of knowledge opened
And higher heaven is gained;
And up these paths of Spirit progress
Earnest seekers may pursue
Until, upon the heights supernal,
They the Central Glories view.

THE DOWELL SCHOOL.

On account of an epidemic of measles our report this month looks rather sickly so we are not going to brag of the attendance. However there were enough pupils present every day to give us an interesting election campaign. The lucky candidates for office were: Cora Rupp, mail clerk; Eldon Rupp, policeman; Olla Rupp, chief of police; Oda Waldvogel, police woman.
The winners of prizes in the third grade were Helen Rupp in the third grade and Eldon Rupp in the fourth.
The mail clerks report shows that thirty-three pieces of mail were received during the month and that thirty-five were sent.
The secretary's report shows that we had a total of twenty-seven visitors during the month.
The business manager tells us that the gross income of the school during the month was $14.00 and that we start the new year with a debt of $48.26.
A new book case and shelves were built in the school house during our recent vacation.
Our singing school is still well attended.
We are sadly in need of more library books. Say it's funny isn't it to think that no rich man ever thought of endowing a rural school with land enough and money enough to build a real for sure rural school? Is it funny? Come to think of it I don't believe it is. Anyway it isn't too late for some rich fellows to make themselves famous.
Thanks for the New Years gift Mr. Tribune Man.

I will sell buggies at a great reduction for the next 30 days.
CHAS. F. STOTZER.
